Attempted Bribery

New Charge On Teamsters' Boss

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa today faced new charges—attempting to bribe jurors in his deadlocked federal court conspiracy trial here last year.

A five-count indictment returned by a special federal grand jury accused the labor leader with "aiding, commanding and inducing" efforts to influence two jurors and a prospective juror to vote for his acquittal.

In Philadelphia, Hoffa said he was not guilty and declined comment because he had not seen the indictment. He appeared before a U.S. commissioner and posted a $10,000 bond for a hearing next Monday.

Six other persons, most of them close friends or associates of Hoffa, also were indicted, and Justice Department attorneys indicated still more indictments might be forthcoming.

The grand jury charged the defendants offered $10,000 to a prospective juror, a similar amount to the son of a juror and a "promotion" to a Tennessee highway patrolman whose wife was on the jury. The two jurors were replaced before the case went to the jury.

Hoffa, 50, who heads the nation's largest single union, was tried on charges he conspired to violate the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting funds illegally from a Detroit transport firm in return for labor peace.

The trial, which began Oct. 22, ended Dec. 23, when U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller declared a mistrial, the jury having reported it was hopelessly deadlocked, 7 to 5, for acquittal.

In dismissing the jury, Miller said he was "frankly astonished at the history of attempted jury fixing in this case" and directed the U.S. attorney to launch an investigation.

Give Out Medals For Heroism

WHITEMAN AIR FORCE BASE Mo. (AP)—Two Air Force men received Airmen's Medals Wednesday for their heroism in connection with a bomber explosion which resulted in the death of six men and injuries to 16 others here May 15, 1962.

The two cited for their courage were Master Sgt. Clark Mahood, Minneapolis and Airman Second Class John Thomas Lacaria, 19, Charleston, W. Va., both members of the 340th Bombardment Wing at the base. The medals were presented and the citation for the two read by Col. Willis F. Lewis, Wing commander.

The B-47 plane had exploded on the runway. Sgt. Mahood and Lacaria, seeing a fireman emerge from the plane with his clothing afire rushed to him. They tried to put out the flames in the clothing, first by rolling him on the ground and then by the use of a fire extinguisher. They wrapped him in other clothing. The fireman recovered from his burns.

Industry Leaders Warned

No Jobless Dent; Urges Tax Slash

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—President Kennedy's chief economist warned industry leaders today that the spring business upswing, although surprisingly strong, is insufficient to make a real dent in unemployment.

Dr. Walter W. Heller brought to the Business Council, holding its spring meeting here, an appeal for active industry support of a substantial tax cut this year.

Without the kind of stimulus that a tax cut could bring, Heller estimated, it would take nearly 10 years of uninterrupted business growth at the present gradual rate of expansion to restore full employment. And the stimulus of tax reduction, he argued, would have its greatest impact if injected into an economy that already was in the recovery phase.

Heller apparently did not need to make a hard sales pitch. At least a score of the council's 165 members, including some of the biggest names in industry and finance, have joined Henry Ford II, board chairman of Ford Motor Co., in a movement to mobilize nationwide business support for an early tax cut of some $10 billion.

These include the council's chairman, Frederick M. Kappel, board chairman of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., and its immediate past chairman, Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp.

More were expected to join and make contributions this weekend to the new "Business Committee on Tax Reduction in 1963." Two other council members are the co-chairmen of the tax group, Ford and President Stuart T. Saunders of the Norfolk & Western Railroad.

TPA Growth Related At State Meet

Oscar C. Smude, Cape Girardeau, president of the Missouri Division of Travelers Protective Association, reported to the 132 registered delegates of the organization that the Missouri Division had grown more than 500 to a total of 15,480 members during the past year and was second only to Pennsylvania in membership.

His report was made at the Friday morning session of TPA state convention being held through Saturday at Hotel Bothwell.

Immediately following the opening of the morning session, the delegates adopted rules and order of business for the convention following a report of recommended procedures given by Oliver Schnitker, St. Louis, chairman.

Reports were made by Edward Kuhn, St. Louis, secretary-treasurer, Woodrow Wilson Chism, Pemiscot County Post "I," chairman of credentials; W. F. Heilmann, St. Louis national board member, who spoke on apportionment of expenses for the national TPA convention to be held in Miami, Fla., next month.

Jack Pasley, Sedalia Post "F," chairman of registrations, reported that all 17 Missouri posts were (Please turn to Page 4, Col. 2)

Spring Fever Touches Off Campus Riots

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A touch of spring fever struck three New England college campuses during Thursday night and sent students swarming into the streets of New Haven, Conn.; Providence, R.I.; and Waltham, Mass.

Before dawn broke today, what began as spring larks turned into full-scale riots at the campuses of Yale and Brown universities.

At New Haven it took scores of nightstick swinging policemen to bring some 1,500 Yale students under control early today. Seventeen students were arrested and one required hospital treatment.

Missile Sprays Valley

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Scattered parts of a Nike Zeus anti-missile missile, destroyed in flight over White Sands Missile Range, sprayed an uninhabited area of southern New Mexico's Hondo Valley.

The El Paso Times said pieces of the missile cut an electrical power feeder line, knocking out service to six communities for more than five hours Thursday.

Thresher Tragedy Doesn't Alter Plans

EDITOR'S NOTE — A month ago today the nuclear submarine Thresher sank in the Atlantic with the loss of 129 men. The following is an up to the minute recount of the nation's worst peacetime submarine disaster by an Associated Press reporter who has covered the story from its beginning.

By JAMES CALOGERO

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — The disaster that struck the nuclear submarine Thresher one month ago today has not changed the Navy's plans for construction of vessels of the same type.

Rear Adm. Ralph K. James, until April 29 chief of the Navy's Bureau of Ships, told a Navy Court of Inquiry Thursday that the bureau reviewed and found the design "fundamentally excellent and there should be no termination of this program."

The report was accepted by Secretary of the Navy Ford Korth, James said.

The admiral, who retires June 30, also said the Thresher "represented the finest capability in performance and safety in submarines."

After first testifying in open session, James and his successor as chief of the Bureau of Ships, Rear Adm. William A. Brockett, gave further testimony behind closed doors.

It was on a gray morning one month ago that the Thresher sank during a deep sea test dive with the loss of 129 lives 220 miles east of Boston.

$3-million In Sewer Bonds Recommended for Sedalia

Supplemental Disposal By Lagoons Best Plan

The Burns & McDonnell Engineering Company recommended today in its sewer survey report that the city of Sedalia pass a $3-million bond issue to improve its grossly overloaded sewer system.

The report, received by Mayor L. L. Studer this afternoon, also recommended the use of lagoons at each plant as a method of disposal.

Covering 34 pages, the recommendations, Mayor Studer emphasized, require the approval of the Missouri State Water Pollution Board before any further action can be taken.

The recommendations state that the north disposal plant, located north of the city limits and west of Grand avenue and the west plant, located at the west city limits south of the Missouri Pacific tracks are grossly overloaded and require extensive rehabilitation.

Although the south plant, located at 28th and New York, is not grossly overloaded, some improvements are required.

A system of lagoons is recommended, the report states, to supplement the sewage disposal plants because the sewage now has to be discharged into small streams. General obligation bonds were recommended.

Recommendations pointed out that once a sewer bond issue is passed federal aid in the amount of 30 per cent of the overall cost can be requested. This would reduce the cost of improvements from $3 million to $2.1 million.

Senior Hurt During Kid Day Events

The frolicking of the annual Kid Day event for Smith-Cotton High School seniors was marred Friday morning by a non-serious injury to a senior girl, whose face was powdered with broken glass when a water-filled balloon broke the windshield of the car she was driving.

Alice Jentz, 17, 424 East 16th, was taken to Bothwell Hospital where she was examined by Dr. H. O. Wilbur. No damage was reported to her eyes. However, some small cuts on her arm and leg were listed. She was not kept at the hospital.

Police said the incident occurred in the 400 block of West Broadway while the Jentz girl was eastbound in a 1952 Chevrolet. The water-filled balloon broke the (Please turn to Page 4, Col. 3)

Star Athlete Lipscomb Dead at 31

Autopsy Fails To Produce Cause; Suspect Narcotics

BALTIMORE (AP) — An assistant medical examiner said today "there is a definite suspicion that narcotics are involved in the death" of Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, a mammoth veteran professional football player.

Dr. Rudiger Breinteker said a preliminary autopsy failed to disclose what caused the death of Lipscomb who was found unconscious in a West Baltimore apartment.

But the assistant medical examiner said there were at least three needle marks above the veins on both elbows of the giant athlete.

Bond for Three Held For Trial

Three of six Sedalians, who Thursday were bound over to Circuit Court for trial on charges stemming from tire thefts from the Orscheln Farm & Home Supply Company warehouse, have been released on bond.

Carl L. Cable, 60, 805 West Main, charged with receiving stolen property, posted a $4,000 bond.

David C. Kelly, 18, 706 East Tenth, charged with second degree burglary, posted a $3,000 bond.

Mike Siegel, 19, 310 North Summit, charged with stealing items valued at over $50, posted a $3,000 bond.

The bonds are returnable to the September term of Circuit Court, when the cases are scheduled for trial.

Still being held in the county jail in lieu of $3,000 bonds are Richard D. Stage, 26, 906 East Fourth, charged with second degree burglary; Golden Copas, 19, 1305 North Grand; and Ralph Naylor, 23, 620 East Tenth, both charged with stealing items valued at over $50.

After Heavy Struggle

Baptist Meeting Is Cooling Down

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Southern Baptist convention settled into a cooling-off period today after a burst of hot and heavy struggle in which it took stands on both sides of its fundamental-liberal cleavage.

It elected a crusading conservative, Dr. K. Owen White of Houston, as its president for the coming year.

But it rebuffed his cohorts in their attempts to further castigate the denomination's seminaries on grounds they sow seeds of liberalism.

It refused to send a message of encouragement to the integration demonstrators jailed in Birmingham.

It adopted a new "Statement of Southern Baptist Faith and Message" containing some phrases hotly attacked by the conservatives, and it thunderously applauded an entirely new section on academic freedom in its schools.

All was done in a welter of motions, amendments to motions, amendments to amendments, a cry of "heresy," shouted votes by more than 12,000 messengers sent from local churches, complaints about "gag rule," and a ruling by Dr. Herschel H. Hobbs, the retiring president, that much of it was out of order.

The key development was the election of Dr. White, who became the champion of the fundamentalists at the 1962 assembly in San Francisco by his attack on the seminaries for doctrinal deviation.

In a news conference soon after his election, he said he will use the influence of his new office to continue his campaign against liberalism.

He defined liberalism: "An attitude which casts doubt on the reliability, dependability and authority of the Bible as the word of God."

Emergency Service

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia Mental Health Clinic instituted a round the clock emergency psychiatric service Thursday for potentially explosive situations.

The purpose of the new service is to help those requiring immediate psychiatric attention.

Merely by dialing a number a patient, family or friend will be put in touch with a trained psychiatrist at any hour of the day or night.

ing to use air pressure to blow water from ballast tanks in preparation for surfacing.

Watson said that, indeed, he did hear a rush of air for a few seconds and then a garbled message from Thresher, the last two words of which were "test depth."

He said the word before those two final words could have been "exceeding," but he wasn't certain.

When the brief rush of air stopped, Watson said, "I heard a sound that is familiar to me from having heard a ship blown up by torpedoes in World War II—the sound of a ship breaking up—a muted, dull thud."

Because those messages and the sounds were not reported immediately, the Skylark's skipper, Lt. Cmdr. Stanley W. Hecker of Brooklyn, N.Y., was named a party to the court proceedings. There are no charges against Hecker, and Adm. Austin emphasized that the Skylark skipper could in no way have contributed to the loss of Thresher.

As a witness before the court, Hecker testified he began a search for Thresher after he took the underwater telephone himself and got only silence when he called out at least a half-dozen times: "Are you in control?"

Later, the Skylark and other search vessels which converged at the site spotted two oil slicks and debris which included two rubber gloves and pieces of cork and plastic.

Watson explained the word "blow" is submarine talk meaning to use air pressure to blow water from ballast tanks in preparation for surfacing.

All the debris has been identified before the court as made of the very material used in construction of Thresher.

Among them was a foot-square piece of plastic similar to insulation of the Thresher's nuclear reactor plant.

Frederick L. Downes, chief chemist at Portsmouth Naval Shipyard, testified he examined chars on the plastic and found they appeared to have been caused by "a rush of flame."

Nine days after his testimony, Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, director of nuclear propulsion for the Navy, said it was impossible for the Thresher nuclear plant to explode.

He said: "Nuclear reactors in submarines and surface ships are designed to minimize hazards under any conditions. It is physically impossible for nuclear plants on ships to explode like a bomb."

By far the bulk of testimony has centered around the nine months of overhaul on Thresher, up to her April 9 departure from Portsmouth.

Lt. Raymond McCoolle, 33, who missed Thresher's last dive by a quirk of fate, testified the submarine was plagued by mechanical malfunctions almost until departure time—but he added they all had been detected and corrected in time.

McCoolle said he had been anxious to make what proved to be the fatal trip—but his wife, mother of their five children, suffered a kitchen accident on April 8 and he was given a two-day liberty pass to be with her.

Sedalia's Mayor L. L. Studer welcomed the delegates at the morning session. Excerpts from his welcoming address follows:

"It gives me pleasure to extend on behalf of Sedalia a most cordial welcome to the members of the Travelers Protective Association of America. We are proud to have in our community a convention like this of an organization that not only provides accident protection when some kind of a tragedy enters the homes, but also teaches and practices the principle of service to the community and to the nation.

"The American people have been impressed with your child accident prevention program, now in its 17th year. It must, indeed, be a rare privilege for you to be associated with such an outstanding business and patriotic association like this.

"I should like to express the hope that you will enjoy a most informative, instructive, and successful convention.

"May I say, too, that I am very glad to appear before you at the invitation of your local president and my friend, Harry Welch, whom it has been my privilege to have known, admired and respected for many years."

Discuss 'Hot Line'

GENEVA (AP) — Telecommunications experts from the United States and the Soviet Union met for the second time Thursday to continue their technical discussions of the proposed "hot line" between Washington and the Kremlin.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle and the Soviet's Semyon K. Tsarapkin took part in the closed meeting, together with experts of both sides.

Both sides have agreed to keep details of the negotiations under close secrecy and delegation sources declined all comment.

Police Sgt. John McDonald said eight boys were detained for investigation. Some of the youths were not Smith-Cotton students and were apparently trying to horn in on the Kid Day fun, the Democrat-Capitol learned.

Officers were keeping a closer watch on the festivities in the aftermath of the windshield breaking incident and students were being ordered to put away their water balloons.

Shortly before 1 p. m. another Smith-Cotton senior came to police headquarters and reported a water balloon had broken a window in his car. The youth he implicated was already being detained by police.

At least one other injury was linked with Kid Day. Mike McLeod, 18, also a Smith-Cotton senior, received a cut on his foot while swimming in Flat Creek south of here. Bothwell Hospital reported McLeod was taken to the office of Dr. Carl Siegel for treatment.

Kid Day festivities usually bring out a certain amount of water balloon tossing, but the trouble is most often linked to youths who are not Smith-Cotton students.

Falls Short of Goal

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Early shutdown of the second stage engine caused a Titan 2 missile to fall short of its intended 5,500-mile goal Thursday.

Officials reported the upper stage cut off only a few seconds shy of full burning time. Total distance traveled was not disclosed.

The failure was the sixth in 14 Titan 2 test firings and could further delay the missile's development as this nation's most powerful military rocket and as the booster for the two-man project Gemini spacecraft.

Plans for the new church were reported approved by the congregation last Sunday.

William Booth

William Booth To Circle Globe With Brass Choir

William (Bill) Booth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley R. Booth, Route 3, Sedalia, will appear as soloist with the University of Kansas Concert Band in its annual spring concert at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, May 12. He will play the Gordon Jacob "Concerto for Trombone."

Booth will leave next Feb. 1 on a world tour as first trombonist and soloist with the University Brass Choir. The choir, which is composed of five trumpets, four French horns, four trombones, a tuba and timpani, will give concerts for universities and royalty and will give lectures, hold clinics and give lessons at many of the universities.

The brass choir will return to the United States in mid-May, having completely circled the globe.

The tour is a part of the federal government's cultural exchange program.

Booth has played first trombone with the University of Kansas Concert Band, Symphony Orchestra and Brass Choir since he entered the university in 1960.

For the past two years he has been soloist with the university band and the brass choir on their annual tours.

He also has been a member of the Little Symphony and frequently appeared in honor recitals.

On the evening of April 30 he presented a joint senior recital with Miss Susan Neil, Abilene, Kan., soprano.

During the summer of 1960 Bill played with the American Wind Symphony, which toured England. Last summer he held a full scholarship at the Berkshire Music Center in Massachusetts, which is directed by the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Booth has a band, "The Bill Booth Quintette," and he teaches trombone and trumpet in Topeka on Saturdays.

Bill began his studies with Harry Trotman, a former Sedalian. He began lessons with Robert Cummings when he was about ten years old and continued under his

Fear Curtain Hangs Over Boston Area

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A curtain of fear hung over the Greater Boston area today in the wake of the brutal slaying of a 26-year-old music student found in her apartment off Harvard Square.

The body of Miss Beverly Samans Beckley, W. Va., a graduate student at Boston University who was preparing for an audition with the Metropolitan Opera Co., was found Wednesday night.

The slaying revived fears caused by the eight unsolved stranglings of women in Greater Boston since June.

Dr. Peter A. Delmonico, medical examiner, said cause of death was a stab wound through the heart. There were 15 stab wounds on the body, he said.

"A person who would inflict brutality of this sort was not of sound mind," Delmonico said. The doctor said there was no evidence of rape.

Two kerchiefs and a nylon stocking were knotted around the victim's throat in an apparent strangling attempt. But "they did not cause death," the doctor said.

He placed the time of death as sometime after 11 p.m., Sunday night. A neighbor reported seeing the victim alive at about that time. Miss Samans' body, clad in a negligee, her hands tied behind her back, was found on a bed in her two-room apartment by police after they were called by Oliver Chamberlain, 33, an acquaintance of the girl.

Police said Chamberlain told them another man, not identified, called him and said he had received no response at the girl's apartment.

There was no sign of a struggle or of forced entry, police said. They found the front door unlocked.

The brunette student, who lived alone was last reported seen Sunday, police said.

A chemical type of blast will be set off in conjunction with the surface shot to compare effects.

St. Louis Hotel Spiritual Oasis

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A hotel in bustling downtown St. Louis provides a spiritual oasis.

Off the lobby of Hotel Alverne, run by the Franciscan Missionaries of Mary, is the Eucharistic shrine of Our Lady of the Angels. It opens through wide glass doors directly onto the busy intersection of Eleventh and Locust streets.

Mother Mary Hildemar, the Alverne's mother superior, says the Roman Catholic shrine draws persons of many faiths.

"Many office workers and executives come for a visit during the noon hour," she says, "just to get a little peace and quiet and to have a place to meditate and give thanks."

Most guests of the hotel are elderly. The staff of 11 nuns provides recreation facilities of many kinds—ranging from pianos to pool tables.

The Catholic archdiocese of St. Louis, under Joseph Cardinal Ritter's leadership, acquired the building in 1956 and converted the 18-story structure into a residential hotel for men and women over 60. The shrine followed.

To remind people in the streets they could rest and meditate there the archdiocese hung a huge illuminated life-sized crucifix by the glass doors. It has become a beacon to passersby.

When they have a moment from tending the hotel's 250 residents,

In the Lighter Vein, Again

It just had to happen. "Whew! It's too hot. We need air conditioning."

This, after the long but invigorating spell of cool, cold, freezing and sub-zero weather around here the past few months.

Not so long ago the comment was about the hopeful arrival of warmer temperatures. Now they are here — well, it's different. Of course, the weather will never be accepted as pleasing to everyone, but one thing is certain: for infinite variety Central Missouri has it. And we doubt if there are many chronic complainers who would deliberately avoid it by moving away from this enchanting area, whether or not because of the weather.

Stimulated by the warmth May undoubtedly has brought, light topics of conversation are heard and lighter attire worn hereabouts. On the revived subject of jaywalking and suggested strict enforcement of an ordinance against this common practice on downtown streets, another question has arisen.

Are the parking meter men subject to the jaywalking ordinance — specifically, the ones who drive the little motor cart around the streets and issue tickets to overtime parkers?

The point raised is that these men stop beside a parked car to issue an overtime ticket. While their little cart is double-parked they spot a vehicle on the opposite side and cross the street to issue another ticket and then walk back across the street anywhere in any block.

No doubt this is a time saver for the meter man, and so it is for the pedestrian who crosses streets at an angle rather than at crosswalks and intersections as the ordinance specifies.

A motorist contends that either of the above persons is a jaywalker and subject to the ordinance restrictions. He protests that on one occasion he nearly ran down a meter man who was walking across a street in the middle of the block.

So now we have another hot weather subject to chew on that may become as involved in ultimate interpretation as the Sunday sales restrictions pertaining to who can sell which or what and when.

What next? Has anyone seen a Sedalia police officer jaywalking lately?

The World Today

On a Voyage to Isles of Fantasy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the time when Democrats and Republicans embark on a voyage which carries them close to the isles of fantasy. They're sailing now.

It happens every four years, about a year and some months before the next presidential election. They line the rails, chanting a political anthem composed in part of exaggerated charges and preposterous claims.

This makes it doubly hard on the earnest voter along the shore.

He wants to separate fact from fiction, the bland from the blatant, and the true from the trite. But he has a time, close-up or with field-glasses, telling Democrats from Republicans since they're such look-alikes.

From now until election day the politicians will be in a state which psychologists call euphoria. Without any apparent effort, and often without facts, they imagine all kinds of good things happening to them.

Thursday, for instance, Republican congressional leaders predicted that the GOP in 1964 would capture the presidency and the House. But then they suffered a complete lapse of prophecy. This will last until their convention.

They wouldn't predict their presidential candidate.

Their three front-runners, all eager to make a speech at the drop of an invitation or without one, have managed to fight off any public display of their own euphoria.

The three — New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater, and Michigan's Gov. George Romney — all deny they have presidential ambitions.

This is like hearing a fisherman say he's sitting in the hot sun for exercise.

The Republicans, now that this is open season, are attacking President Kennedy's leadership. Their national chairman, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, has accused him of "apathy and drift."

Miller's opposite number, John M. Bailey, Democratic national chairman, returned the favor against Rockefeller who until recently, at least, looked like the man on the inside track in the Republican race.

Bailey accused Rockefeller of lacking leadership in his own state of New York. Not to be outdone, the governor has had some uncomplimentary things to say about the way Kennedy is leading.

But Bailey, like the Republicans, also got carried away by his dreams of political plenty and invaded New York to tell the Democrats he expects them to carry the state for Kennedy in 1964.

Even the cave-dwellers knew that nothing burns a man up so quickly—including his ambitions—as building a fire under him. The Republicans, having built one under Kennedy, are throwing logs on it steadily.

This week many of them popped up in the Senate to announce that the President's policies had caused a "great leap backward" in United States prestige abroad.

But it's still so early all this criticism was as mild as coughing under a blanket compared with what the Republicans will do later. What they're doing now is hardly more than warming up their motor on a frosty morning.

Kennedy, who will be running again in 1964, for many months to come has an advantage over any would-be Republican candidate or, for that matter, all the Republicans put together.

As President he can hold a televised news conference every week—which can be like a 30-minute campaign talk to the nation—or do something around the White House which gets his pictures in the papers every day.

It's amazing how he stays in focus.

For a politician this is the happiest, because it's the best and most inexpensive, kind of public exposure. No Republican can match him in it until the party formally picks its candidate in the summer of 1964.

Even then he won't get as much attention as the President.

The Democrats, with Kennedy a sure thing as their candidate, will lack the special excitement of the Republicans who still must find one. But there isn't a politician who wouldn't trade excitement for contentment any day.

The politicians of both parties never feel so content in a presidential campaign as when their candidate is trying to renew his lease on that house on Pennsylvania Avenue.

DEAR POLLY — With woolen storage time here, I find it convenient to put moth crystals in an old nylon stocking and tie the stocking to the hook of a coat hanger, thus suspending the crystals. When a garment is hung over the hanger the crystals, which might stain some fabrics, do not touch the material and yet provide safe storage. — MRS. B. L.

DEAR POLLY — When I was expecting my first baby, I was given a bassinet as a shower gift. I wanted to buy a frilly skirt for it but they were too expensive. I took one of my old cancan petticoats, took the elastic out and sewed the skirt to the bassinet liner. I tacked a big bow with streamers on and had a beautiful and dainty skirt. — MRS. B. N.

DEAR POLLY — When I hem a skirt, I mark a cardboard the desired width I want the hem and then notch the spot with the scissors. This gives an exact

Also place a sofa pillow on your lap as you sew. This brings your work to the correct eye level and prevents back strain. — MRS. E. E. F.

DEAR POLLY — By making a "treat day" calendar, you can avoid the usual disappointment that ice cream-conscious youngsters feel when they are sometimes refused treats from the ice cream vendor.

Give them a calendar, with big numbers, and each day let them tape a penny onto that day's date. Only when they have accumulated sufficient coins are they able to remove the pennies and buy ice cream with the money they have saved. In this way the treat is bought at sensible intervals and is more appreciated. This also teaches the children the days of the week and how to read a calendar. — MRS. V. L. C.

DEAR POLLY — If you have ever asked your husband to lower the rods in the children's closet and he does not get around to it, you can do a fair job yourself. Tie a strong cord or small rope to both ends of a broomstick or mop handle. Tie the other end of

Dryness Is Enemy Of Pesky Pinworms' Eggs

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I read your article on pinworms. Please tell me how long the eggs can remain alive on draperies or other places that are not cleaned every day. Also, how long is it after you swallow the eggs before you have the full-grown worms? How can an adult tell whether he has pinworms?

A—The pinworm eggs can live for about nine days, depending on the dryness of the air. The drier the air the faster they die out. After swallowing the eggs, it takes about four weeks for the worms to reach the stage where they are ready to lay their eggs at the outlet of the bowel of the human host. As the female worm wriggles out of the victim's body (usually at night) there may be some itching around the anus.

The only other way a person can tell whether he has worms is by finding them in the stool or in the anal region. They are white, actively squirming and about half an inch long.

Q—I am 34, and have had lupus erythematosus for about eight years and have been taking chloroquine (Aralen). In your article about lupus erythematosus you mentioned antimalarial drugs. Are these newer or more effective than chloroquine? What are the side effects?

A—Chloroquine is an antimalarial drug and, although it has been on the market for several years, it is still a comparative newcomer. The side effects include mild headache, itching, blurred vision, and stomach upsets when the drug is taken daily for long time.

It is essential that anyone taking this useful drug regularly have a checkup by an eye specialist four times a year.

The eye doctor should be told that you are taking chloroquine, so that he will be sure to include special tests in his examination.

Q—If a pilonidal cyst is removed, can it come back?

A—A pilonidal cyst is a cyst that occurs at the lower end of the spine, and is due to a small defect in development. It may contain hair follicles and is easily infected. If the cyst is infected it may have to be opened and drained before any attempt at removal is made. If the cyst is not removed completely, it will surely come back.

Because of the location and the danger of reinfection, healing is likely to be slow, even when the cyst is removed completely.

Q—I am 62, and suffer with cramps in my toes when I go to bed. What could cause this? I have had a broken ankle and a broken hip. Could it be from that?

A—The cramps you describe are caused by the muscles of your feet being in an unnatural position when you are lying in bed. This often happens when the bedclothes are too heavy. Many people can bring on such cramps at will by overextending the joints of their feet. It is most unlikely that your broken bones play any part in the cause.

Vigorously moving the joints in your feet and putting them in a more comfortable position should give relief.

The Mature Parent

A Parent Is a Person

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence,
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Our 16-year-old daughter runs to the telephone to complain about me to her friends whenever we have an argument. I have said nothing to her about this, knowing that adolescent children should be allowed to blow off steam when they get upset. But my husband thinks I am wrong to allow it. He says I am allowing her to spread our private family problems all over the neighborhood.

ANSWER: Adolescence is your daughter's stage of life. IT IS NOT YOURS.

In adolescence we may try to solve our resentment at one person by complaining about his behavior to other people. When we outgrow adolescence, we learn how ineffective is this solution. Instead of blowing off our steam to the winds of heaven, we aim it at the person who has generated it.

Your daughter has every right in the world to complain about you to her friends. You have every right to demand that she refer her complaints to you, not only because they belong to you, but because they will increase your knowledge of her.

I therefore suggest that you say to your daughter:

"What's the matter with you? Why do you complain about me to your friends when I have a right to know what it is you resent in me? Speak up. If you don't like what I've done, say so—and I will tell you why I did it."

You are not a child psychoanalyst. It is not your responsibility to "understand" the psychological dynamics of adolescence. It's your responsibility to be what you are. If you think it's silly and wasteful for your child to scatter her resentments at you all over the lot, when it's possible to acquire more knowledge of her by asking her to express them to you, it is your business to say so. And you should say it with such conviction that your child will sit up and take notice.

It is not a parent's business to tolerate and excuse behavior he considers foolish—just because the child happens to be 16.

That's the child's problem. Our problem is being our age.

Peace at Too Great Price

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Do you give in to your child if he keeps pestering you long enough?

Or do you have the courage to keep right on saying "no" if your heart and your good judgment tell you it's wrong to say "yes?"

The father of a young boy seriously hurt when his motor scooter was hit by an automobile said: "I've been afraid this would happen. But the boy wouldn't give me any peace until I bought him a scooter."

We're buying peace at a pretty high price when we give in to a child's teasing, and let him do something we know is foolhardy or dangerous or unwise.

The trouble is, the habit of giving in to get a little peace usually starts when a child is young.

Right then and there we are setting a pattern. The pattern is that if the child teases long enough he will get his way.

Then, when the child is a little older, the important decisions start coming up.

Can he do this or that, or have this or that, if he keeps pestering?

If through the years of early childhood he has found that he usually can wear parents down if he keeps teasing long enough, he'll keep it up until he finally gets his way.

Of course, he may eventually have to pay the price for winning out against his parents' better judgment.

If common sense and mature judgment tell you that "No" should be your answer to a child and you make the answer "Yes" because you are tired of holding out, you are doing the child a great wrong.

The boy hurt on his motor scooter wasn't responsible for the tragedy. His father was. He said "yes" when he knew in his heart he should stick by his first "no."

Bar Blind Because Dog Not Admitted

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Three blind persons, their guide dogs beside them, told a House committee Wednesday night they were sometimes refused food or lodging because their dogs could not be admitted.

They spoke for a bill that would make it a misdemeanor to refuse to admit guide dogs to a bus, restaurant or hotel if the dogs were properly muzzled.

The committee approved the bill.

Another committee heard testimony on a bill that would require persons between 21 and 25 to carry identification cards, including their pictures, in order to buy liquor or beer.

"I could line you up 30 teenagers," Gilbert Fischbach, St. Charles bowling alley operator told the committee, "and I'll bet you 15 of them will have forged identification."

A committee was set up to study the bill and seek an opinion from the attorney general.

Earlier House Republicans took advantage of absenteeism in Democratic ranks to amend a bill so the state housing commission would be bipartisan.

After the amendment, the sponsor of the bill decided to abandon it.

The House gave first round approval to a bill intended to spur industrial research. Sums of more than $25,000 spent for research could be deducted from a company's state income tax.

Rep. Paul Canaday, D-Greene County, estimated the state would lose between $100,000 and $400,000 in revenue the first year.

Mingling Not Done On Order

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—This mingling of Negroes and whites wasn't done under court order. It happened because they made a decision to meet each other on equal terms.

This was "Project Friendship," or, more simply, a schedule of visits between Negroes and whites in Knoxville. It may have been a one-shot thing, but the group which sponsored it hopes not.

In response to a question at his news conference Wednesday, President Kennedy suggested that such a project might improve race relations in Washington.

About 160 white and Negro families volunteered to participate in "Project Friendship" in Knoxville. It began Sunday when Negroes visited whites, and vice versa, with no more in mind than a display of friendship.

"Our visit with a doctor and his wife was just delightful," said Mrs. Robert Harvey, a Negro whose husband is a college math professor. "We talked about everyday things, nothing unusual. Just like friends."

The project was planned by several persons of different faiths who were interested in creating understanding between the races.

Merrill Proudfoot, a white member of the group and a college professor of religion and philosophy, said the visits were arranged with "people who have a conscience on this race problem."

Through ministers and personal contacts, the group solicited white and Negro families to participate. Screening committee paried ones with similar economic and educational backgrounds.

Armed Forces Day Prayer

Almighty God, who hast committed unto Thy people the safeguarding of values and the perpetuation of peace and good will, we pause before Thee in gratitude on this Armed Forces Day, 1963, in full recognition of our responsibilities, we rededicate ourselves as the custodians of this Nation's defenses.

We are cognizant that our task is insurmountable, if we walk alone. In our own strength we can neither prevent a war nor win the peace. But in Thy strength we can experience "Forces in Depth;" we can stand as a bulwark of peace and security; we can be the embodiment of Duty, Honor, Country. We pray, therefore, that Thou will endow us with the ability to take a hard look at our future. Grant us the willingness to be one team; to accept one mission; and to accomplish one objective. With this dedication, we shall fulfill our role as an "Essential Force of Freedom" in both peace and war.

As a Nation, we have accepted the challenge of progress and recognized that it has no visible boundaries. Through the unfolding of heretofore hidden mysteries, man has plummeted into outer-space and returned to give his testimony. In Thine Own Divine wisdom Thou hast shared with man the ability to build an atomic submarine and penetrate the depths of the great waters. The ancient poet said that these things are "too wonderful for me," yet Thou has revealed them to this generation.

Grant, O God, that this insight, this power and this rededication may enable us to traverse all "walls;" to experience genuine brotherhood; and to live in peace in one world. Amen.

Polio Stricken Family Flown To Texas Hospital

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A Texas woman and eight of her 10 children—three of them already stricken with polio—were flown here on a mercy flight from Kennett, Mo., Wednesday night.

Fred Smith, Kennett hospital administrator, told U. S. Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez there was grave danger of a polio epidemic in the Missouri town.

He added that it was essential to get Mrs. Vincent Lopez and the eight children, including five who have not been immunized, out of the town immediately.

Smith said there are about 70 persons living in the migrant family town where the Lopez live and the hospital does not "have a bed left." He said Kennett is unable to cope with such an emergency.

Lopez, a migrant worker from San Antonio, reportedly remained in Kennett with his other two children.

The three polio stricken children are 3, 4 and 6 years of age, it was reported. They were taken to the Santa Rose Medical Center here.

President's Message

It is most fitting that we set aside this day—Armed Forces Day—to honor the men and women who serve our country in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and Coast Guard.

Today, our servicemen and women are serving throughout the world as guardians of the peace—many of them away from their homes, their friends and their families. They are visible evidence of our determination to meet any threat to the peace with measured strength and high resolve. They are also evidence of a harsh but inescapable truth—that the survival of freedom requires great cost and commitment, and great personal sacrifice.

It has been said by some that today's struggle for freedom—in South Vietnam, Berlin, South Korea and other areas—is a "forgotten war." But to those who now serve, and to all of the American people, this battle is neither forgotten nor finished. Indeed, we are very much aware of our commitment, of its gravity, and of the need for continued sacrifice and dedication.

As we observe Armed Forces Day, I invite all Americans to view and learn more of our Armed Forces and their preparedness to meet the challenges which lie ahead. And as Commander-in-Chief, I urge all of my countrymen to join me in paying honor to all our servicemen and women on Armed Forces Day, 1963.

Last White Rajah Dies in London

LONDON (AP)—Sir Charles Vyner Brooke, 88, the last white rajah of the North Borneo territory of Sarawak, died today after a long illness.

Except for the period of Japan's World War II occupation, the Brooke family ruled Sarawak as the world's only white rajahs from 1840 until 1946. In that year Sir Charles ceded the territory of 40,000 square miles and 500,000 people to the British government.

Sarawak was given to the Brooke family by the Sultan of Brunei in 1840 in appreciation for the help of James Brooke, Sir Charles' grandfather.

Merchants Open Schedule Tonight

The Sedalia Merchants open their 1963 baseball season tonight at Liberty Park, playing host to the Whiteman AFB nine. Game time is set for 8 p. m.

This will be the first appearance of the Merchants on their home grounds since winning the 1962 state semi-pro championship here last year.

The Merchants, hampered by weather conditions, not to mention work schedules, have had little time to prepare for the new season. However, Charlie Newman, manager, states that the team will be ready tonight. According to Newman, most of the 1962 members will be back this year along with some new talent.

He declined, however, to give a starting lineup prior to game time. The pitching this year will be handled by Bob Brown, Bo

Mason, Skip Schultz, Tom Adams and possibly Dick Horner.

The Whiteman team is back in the local baseball picture this year and from all reports they have a well balanced ball club. They have seven games under their belts thus far this year and are looking for their eighth.

The next home game will be against Warsaw Sunday at 2 p. m.

Ray Herbert Blossoms For Chicago Sox

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer Ray Herbert was just another good journeyman pitcher before he made his way to Chicago. But there, under manager Al Lopez, he found the magic touch.

Herbert hadn't caused many sensations in eight seasons at Detroit and Kansas City, although he won almost as many as he lost. One season he even won more than he lost.

Then came the trade to Chicago. Last year, his first full season with White Sox, he had a 20-9 record and led the league in win-loss percentage.

This season his start is even better. He's 4-1 and all the victories have been shutouts, the last three in a row. The last was a two-hit, 2-0 blanking of the New York Yankees Thursday night that protected the White Sox' one-game lead atop the standings and dropped the Yankees to fifth.

Baltimore climbed into a share of second with a 4-1 triumph over Boston while Washington finally got around to beating Mudcat Grant, whipping the Cleveland Indians 6-0 behind Dave Stenhouse, in the only other games scheduled.

Herbert, 33, a right-hander, allowed the stumbling Yankees only three base runners in extending a scoreless inning string to 27.

A two-run double by shortstop Ron Hansen was all the hitting support Herbert needed.

Grant had won 12 straight in Washington before the Senators finally got to him. He left in the fourth after Ed Brinkman unloaded a three-run homer. Stenhouse spaced seven hits in gaining his first shutout of the season.

Chuck Estrada and Stu Miller combined for a three-hitter in the Orioles' victory over Boston.

Boog Powell's sixth homer of the season and a two-run double by Brooks Robinson were the key blows for Baltimore.

Robinson's Hot Bat Paces Cincy to 13-3 Houston Win

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Frank Robinson, a notoriously slow starter, went 5-for-5 and drove in seven runs on two homers, two singles and a double Thursday night as Cincinnati erupted for its biggest offensive output of the season and crushed Houston 13-3.

It was easily Robinson's best night and gave every indication that his bat, usually rather quiet in April, is beginning to point toward the ball like a diving rod.

The 27-year-old right-handed swinger now has six homers and 22 runs batted in.

Robinson drove in two runs with a third inning double, hit a two-run homer in the sixth and connected for a three-run shot in the eighth. The sixth inning homer came off Jim Umbricht, Colts pitcher returned to the active list only hours before the game after recovering from cancer surgery.

Umbricht, who pitched only one inning, said, "I'm not throwing real well, but I felt real good."

The St. Louis Cardinals bombed the Los Angeles Dodgers for 17 hits, including a grand slam homer by Bill White, in a 10-7 victory.

First-place San Francisco beat Milwaukee 8-2, Chicago's second-place Cubs ran their winning streak to six by beating Pittsburgh 3-1 behind Dick Ellsworth's two-hitter and the New York Mets made it four in a row with a 3-2 decision over Philadelphia.

Robinson's chief assistant in the power department, Vada Pinson, joined in the Reds' bombardment with four RBI on two singles and a double. The victory went to Jim Maloney, bringing his record to 4-1.

White hit the first pitch by Dodger reliever Dick Scott for his grand slam as the Cards exploded for seven runs in the fifth inning. Gene Oliver and Charlie James also homered for St. Louis.

First-place San Francisco beat Milwaukee 8-2, Chicago's second-place Cubs ran their winning streak to six by beating Pittsburgh 3-1 behind Dick Ellsworth's two-hitter and the New York Mets made it four in a row with a 3-2 decision over Philadelphia.

Robinson's chief assistant in the power department, Vada Pinson, joined in the Reds' bombardment with four RBI on two singles and a double. The victory went to Jim Maloney, bringing his record to 4-1.

White hit the first pitch by Dodger reliever Dick Scott for his grand slam as the Cards exploded for seven runs in the fifth inning. Gene Oliver and Charlie James also homered for St. Louis.

The Dodgers came back with two runs in the seventh to knock out Cardinal starter Bob Gibson, but James put the game out of reach in the next inning with his fourth hit, a homer with two on.

Gibson, who picked up his first victory, was banded for 11 hits and five runs in 6 2-3 innings, but Manager Johnny Keane was not too perturbed.

7 Youths Are Honored

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven boys and a girl, ranging in age from 11 to 15, received gold medals from President Kennedy Thursday for saving fellow school children from injury or death.

Kennedy pinned American Automobile Association Gold Lifesaver medals on the youngsters at a ceremony in the rose garden outside his office.

All the award winners are members of school safety patrols. In most cases, they rushed into the paths of oncoming cars to push other children to safety.

Kennedy congratulated the AAA for organizing the awards program and for giving young people "positions of responsibility and leadership which they have responded to."

Two youngsters from Trumbull School, Chicago, received medals for pulling an adult school crossing guard and three girls out of the path of a speeding car. The medal winners are Alvin Cynova, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Cynova and Randy Newnum, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jenkins.

Another award went to John Mingle, 11, of the O. S. Knapp School, Somerville, Mass., for saving five children from injury when a car with defective brakes and steering jumped a curb and crashed into a house.

John pushed two children behind a pole, then raced across the path of the runaway auto and shoved three boys to safety. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Mingle.

Andrew S. Roberts, 12, of Public School 214 in Flushing, N.Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Roberts, was honored for pulling two children and two women out of the path of a speeding auto.

William F. Shady Jr., 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Shady, Halesite, N.Y., a student at St. Patrick School, Huntington, N.Y., was decorated for jumping out of a school bus and pulling a 6-year-old girl out of the path of a car that failed to stop for the bus.

Medal winner Larry R. Williams, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams, a safety patrolman at Centerville (Ind.) Junior High School, also ran into the street to push a group of children out of the path of a car that ignored a red light.

Kennedy presented a medal to Richard D. Roark, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Roark of Southwest School, Jefferson City, Mo., who darted between two girls and a moving school bus and pulled them to the sidewalk.

The only girl honored was Drucie S. Wetterauer, 11, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Damon Wetterauer of Evening Street Elementary School, Worthington, Ohio. Drucie grabbed a kindergarten boy by the collar and pulled him to safety when a car made a turn without regard for children crossing the street. The car brushed against

Accepted Police Practice

Police Dogs Aided Officers In Alabama Race Disputes

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Sheriff Melvin Bailey and Birmingham Chief of Police Jamie Moore said trained police dogs were used when Negroes began demonstrating in the streets "because the officers had to get in close."

And the reason for that, they said, was because at times between 100 and 125 policemen were outnumbered many times over by the crowds they were trying to control.

They made the statements in an interview.

"Using police dogs is one of the accepted practices in police riot work," Bailey said. "The leashes—contrary to some reports that have gone out of here—are not long. They are about 6 feet long. Normally, the leash is wrapped twice around the officer's wrist so that the dog can't possibly get away. The length, then, is even shorter."

He said the dogs were not used until the crowds of Negroes became so big.

Photographs of the dogs, lunging at Negroes, have been transmitted all over the United States and the world. Probably no aspect of the dangerous racial strife in Birmingham has stirred so much reaction.

"When the crowds grew so big," Bailey said, "the dogs were the only things restraining them. There were too few men."

"But to use the dogs, you have to get in close. In that way, one officer can disperse knots of people that he couldn't handle by himself."

He said one of the dogs had been stabbed.

Bailey and Moore said they learned months ago that Negro leaders were planning to try to enforce desegregation in Birmingham.

"We immediately began discussing how law enforcement agencies would meet the problem," Bailey said.

Along with police tactics, the two officers said they began working through civic clubs and other organizations urging the members to stay away from the scenes of the disturbances.

"We quietly passed the word that the worst thing that would happen would be for this thing to turn into a race riot," they said.

One of the characteristics of racial strife in the South has been Drucie but she held onto the boy and neither was injured.

that, when disturbances break out in any given community, white extremists from the nearby countryside and other communities were used when Negroes began demonstrating in the streets "because the officers had to get in close."

In Birmingham, the officers said, there hasn't been a single clash between a white man and a Negro. It has been solely the officers and the demonstrators.

Bailey said he told audiences in the Birmingham area months ago that they were "entitled to law and order but to leave it to the law enforcement agencies if there is trouble."

Is there a possibility of mass clashes between white persons and Negroes now?

"There is always the possibility of race riots," Moore said. "But I would say that if people on both sides—especially the whites—remain as considerate of the problem as they have been up to now, there is not a very great possibility."

Both officers said they consider it a miracle that no one had been killed or seriously injured so far in the disturbances.

Explanation Helps

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—While Kathleen C. Van Wagoner, 17, of Montgomery, Ala., was away from her national science fair-international exhibit Thursday, a borrowed $12 magnifying glass disappeared.

Fellow exhibitors placed a cup by her project, along with a note explaining to fair visitors what had happened.

Thursday night, the cup was filled with coins and currency.

Rights of Newsmen

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Newsmen and spectators crowded around the scene of a press conference called by integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Thursday.

The crush of the crowd was so great some newsmen complained to the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, executive secretary of King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

They asked that spectators be cleared away to give newsmen the best view.

"You guys want equal rights," Walker said, "you should join our movement."

Lose Weight By Stopping All Eating

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Patients in an obesity research program at Wadsworth Veterans Hospital have found the one way to lose weight—quit eating.

They starve, they shed pounds by the hundreds—and they get well.

Dr. Ernst J. Drenick, section chief of internal medicine, started the program two years ago as a method of weight reduction for persons suffering from other ailments.

Of the 12 persons who have starved their way to better health at Wadsworth, Elaine Johnson holds the record for fasting time.

The former Wave, 39, has not eaten since she went on Dr. Drenick's nonfood diet 101 days ago. She tipped the scales then at a hefty 315 pounds and wore a size 50 dress.

Today she's down to a relatively trim 200, wears a 40 and hopes to lose another 50 pounds or so. She came to the hospital for treatment of high blood pressure.

"I'll starve as long as the doctor lets me," she said.

Record for weight loss is held by a man who dropped 200 of his 470 pounds, simply by not eating.

But Dr. Drenick's biggest challenge to date is Leland Poe, 38, who packed 500 pounds on his 6-7 frame when they carried him into the hospital about two weeks ago.

Poe now weighs 444 and has lost 10 pounds in the past two days. His goal is to get down to 230 within the next six months.

"I was like a bear going into hibernation," Poe recalled. I was sleepy and hungry for the first four days but now my body has changed and I'm living off the fat and food that I've stored up over the years.

"And there's still a lot here," he observed.

Makes Good Promise

PITCHER, Okla. (AP)—Bill Koontz, elected mayor of Pitcher on a promise to repair its streets, will start making good on the promise today.

Koontz said he would start shoveling and pounding blacktop on a four-block stretch. He added he hoped this would be a forerunner of extensive street repairs, all by volunteer workers—including some of his supporters.

He said the town of about 1,000 has no money to hire a street crew.

Christmas In May

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The tree set up in John Burns' living room last Christmas was a mighty fatigued fir when John Burns Jr. finally showed up on leave from the Army Thursday.

But it was still on hand and so were Christmas cards and a sun-bleached door wreath. Outdoor Christmas lights twinkled in 82-degree temperature.

The family did it to keep intact Cpl. John Burns Jr.'s record of never missing a Christmas observance at home.

The soldier, 23, explained he thought he was going to get leave from his station, Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., in time for a Christmas visit to Miami but couldn't swing it until now.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: If you can help with this one the entire office will be eternally grateful. A certain woman who works with us has a habit of emphasizing her remarks by hitting people in the arm, punching them in the ribs or landing her fist on a shoulder or a back.

These are not love-taps, Ann. They are enough to knock a person off balance. Nobody will go to a movie or a play with her any more because her blows have actually caused black and blue marks.

We have tried to break her of the habit by making a joke of it, but she just doesn't realize that we are kidding on the square. She goes along her merry way, punching, hitting, shoving and knocking people around.

Please publish this letter. She may see herself and cut it out. Thanks in advance.—BATTERED AND BRUISED.

Dear B and B: Here's the letter but don't count on her "seeing herself." The habit is an unconscious one.

The only way to cure her is to stop kidding and tell her what she is doing. When she lands a blow, belt her right back and say, "Now THIS is what I mean." After a while she'll keep her hands to herself.

Dear Ann Landers: You've always taken the position that the sinner should NOT be permitted to have visitors while on the job. My sister refused to sit unless she could have this privilege—so I agreed. Now I see how right you are.

Last Friday I engaged the girl from 7:30 p.m. until midnight. My husband and I arrived home about 11:30. She and her boy friend were in the den and the hi-fi was going full blast. They were dancing.

Our three-year-old had gotten out of bed, pulled up a chair to the bathroom medicine cabinet and taken down several bottles of pills. We could not learn whether he had swallowed any pills, so we rushed him to the hospital and had his stomach pumped out.

Fortunately, the child is all right. But had the girl not had a visitor she might have heard the boy moving about upstairs, or checked him personally to see if he was in bed where he belonged—NO MORE SITTERS WHO NEED SITTERS TO SET WITH THEM.

Dear No More: Your experience pointed up another good reason to prohibit guests for sitters.

My central objection is the cozy set-up which the sitting job provides. The girl who refuses to sit unless she can entertain her boy friend may well be using the job to do things she can't do in her own home.

Dear Ann Landers: I've always been considered a steady person with common sense—not the type you'd think would end up writing to Ann Landers. But here I am.

I'm a teacher with a good position in northern Ontario. My fiancée is teaching in Niagara Falls. Betty and I exchange letters several times a week but see each other only during long holidays.

In spite of my efforts to keep busy I've become strongly attracted to another young woman. I feel like a rat because I've kept Betty waiting for three years. I'm sure she has been true to me and has passed up other opportunities to date. Betty is a fine girl and I'd rather die than hurt her.

Shall I marry her this summer as planned? I want to do the honorable thing but I'm afraid I'm in love with the girl here.—DUNCE CAP.

Dear Cap: Do nothing until you see Betty. After renewing the relationship in person, if you STILL feel the other girl is the one for you by all means level with your fiancée. There's nothing "honorable" about marrying a girl you don't love.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Payment Plan Latest Step In Football Drive

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A time payment plan under which a season ticket may be purchased for a $12 down payment is the latest step taken by leaders of the drive to bring professional football to Kansas City.

The balance of $30 for a season ticket would be made in equal monthly installments, with no interest, until Oct. 1.

The 30 day drive which ends May 15 is less than halfway to its ambitious goal of 25,000 but leaders hope to get a time extension from Lamar Hunt, owner of the Dallas Texans. Hunt is committed to move the club only if 25,000 are sold.

"This opens up a new avenue of selling and I believe this will enable us to get the quota we need," said Ray Evans, chairman of the campaign.

Next season will see liberal use of "Counter-programming," a quaint practice wherein a major network — ABC — will pit its top array of drama shows against the CBS comedy blockbusters. For example: Ben Casey will square off in the same time slot with the Beverly Hillbillies.

The victim of this machination is, of course, the viewer, who must choose between two or more top shows on at the same hour.

Incidentally, if you are the victim of a dim, dark, flip-flopping TV set in urgent need of expert repair, call on TED'S RADIO & TV SERVICE. All work is fast, thorough and economical at TED'S RADIO & TV SERVICE, 810 1/2 W. 16th St., Phone TA 7-6344 days and TA 6-2656 or TA 6-7011 nights.

In England, the legal process of adoption was unknown to Common Law. It was first permitted only in 1926. This delay can be partly attributed to the availability of devices which protected the continuity of family titles and estates, and partly to the established legal means of caring for dependents or homeless children.

Looking at some of our modern, plush cafeterias, it is hard to remember that when this great American institution first came into existence it was very simple, and sometimes even crude. One of the earliest cafeterias was the Exchange Buffet, established in 1885 in New York City. The system was for men only and the customers had their orders filled at a central counter and ate at other counters while standing.

Agreement Is Limited

Embraces Two of Four Points of Negro Demands

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A limited agreement on Negro demands for desegregation in Birmingham was reached Thursday by a biracial committee, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. announced.

The Negro leader said the agreement embraced two of the four points the Negroes have been demonstrating for during the past month.

They are for desegregation of some facilities in the downtown stores, and improving job opportunities for Negroes.

"We have reached agreement on points one and two," King said, "But I am not at liberty to reveal details of the agreement."

Delegates Arrive For TPA Meet

State Convention Gets Under Way Here Thursday

Delegates from over the state began arriving Thursday afternoon for the 73rd annual state convention of the Missouri division of Travelers Protective Association of America, which is popularly known as TPA. The convention opened Thursday evening with registration and the convention will continue until Saturday afternoon.

Sedalia TPA Post "F" is the host, and according to Harry Walch, president, over 150 delegates and their wives are expected to attend at the convention which will be held at Hotel Bothwell.

State and national TPA officials who were present are: Oscar C. Smude, state president of Cape Girardeau; Edward T. Kuhn, state secretary-treasurer of St. Louis; Ralph M. Lake, national attorney and Dr. James M. Forsen, national physician, both of St. Louis; Roger Hammer, chairman of the state board, St. Louis; Joseph A. Petzold, chairman national board, St. Louis; P. M. Talbott, national assistant secretary, St. Louis; Herman Cox, national board member, Springfield; Carl Newberry, national board member, Jefferson City; Ferd Leonard and William F. Hehman, national board members, St. Louis.

The Friday morning session will begin at 9:30 o'clock with singing of America, led by Lou Schultz. (Please turn to Page 4, Col. 2)

Heart Fund Nets $6,405.79 In Pettis County

Pettis County has reported $6,405.79 in proceeds from the 1963 Heart Fund campaign, according to the May newsletter of the Missouri Heart Association.

The report, as of April 30, indicates 56 counties exceeded their 1962 campaign total. Pettis County was one of the counties passing last year's figure.

A breakdown of area counties follows: Benton, $655.89; Boone, $6,306.33; Cole, $1,500.50; Cooper, $3,280.25; Henry, $1,503.82; Hickory, $446.90; Moniteau, $1,121.12; Morgan, $677.34; Saline, $1,882.72.

The other two points in the integration leaders' demands were for dismissal of charges against some 2,400 Negroes who have been jailed for demonstrating, and for the formation of an official committee, composed of Negroes and white persons, to deal with the racial problems.

At the news conference where the announcement was made, another Negro leader, the Rev. Dr. Ralph Abernathy, said that as a result of the agreement, there would be no further street demonstrations Thursday.

The truce extends until Friday morning, Abernathy said.

The biracial committee was to resume talks Thursday night to try to hammer out an agreement on the other two points.

Of this meeting, King said: "This is really the last time. If it doesn't work out we will have to demonstrate."

Abernathy broke in to say, "We will demonstrate if we do not have a settlement."

He said 1,000 Negro youths are ready to go back into the streets to press for their demands.

The statements at the news conference left the situation still cloudy.

Give Out Medals For Heroism

WHITEMAN AIR FORCE BASE, Mo. (AP)—Two Air Force men received Airmen's Medals Wednesday for their heroism in connection with a bomber explosion which resulted in the death of six men and injuries to 16 others here May 15, 1962.

The two cited for their courage were Master Sgt. Clark Mahood, Minneapolis and Airman Second Class John Thomas Lacaria, 19, Charleston, W. Va., both members of the 340th Bombardment Wing at the base. The medals were presented and the citation for the two read by Col. Willis F. Lewis, wing commander.

The B-47 plane had exploded on the runway. Sgt. Mahood and Lacaria, seeing a fireman emerge from the plane with his clothing afire rushed to him. They tried to put out the flames in the clothing, first by rolling him on the ground and then by the use of a fire extinguisher. They wrapped him in other clothing. The fireman recovered from his burns.

CAR-BUS COLLIDE—Three persons were injured, one woman severely, at 7:30 a.m. Thursday when an auto and a school bus collided at the foot of a hill about two miles southwest of Anderson School on a narrow country road. The car was demolished and the bus was extensively damaged. Mrs. Rosalie Meyer, 22, Route 1, the most seriously injured, was a passenger in the car. She is reported in fair condition at Bothwell Hospital. (Democrat-Capitol photo)

Value Issue In Hearing On Theft

A matter of 30 cents will determine whether two men will be tried on a felony charge or on a misdemeanor charge.

This interesting point came up during the preliminary hearing for Glen Yahne, 314 East 17th, and Delbert Arnold, 804 West Henry, charged with stealing beer from the Fechtel Beverage & Sales Inc.

The men are charged with stealing more than $50 worth of beer, on a felony charge. William F. Brown, attorney representing the two men, maintained in the hearing that the beer was only worth $49.70, the price admittedly paid by the firm, on testimony by Steve Fechtel, or $7.10 per double case for seven double cases of beer. Under this system, the alleged crime would be a misdemeanor.

Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz claims the beer should be valued at $8 per double case, the price Fechtel said he would have received if the beer had been sold to retailers. The $56 value placed on the beer in this case would place the crime in the felony class, as thefts of more than $50 are considered felonies.

Both sides argued their points, and Judge Frank Armstrong took the case under advisement, to investigate and determine which valuation should be considered, in (Please turn to page 4, column 5)

13-County Traffic Toll Stands at 12

During the first four months of 1963, 12 persons have been killed in traffic accidents in the 13 central counties comprising Troop F, according to a recent report by Capt. G. E. Phipps, commanding officer, Troop F, Jefferson City.

Total accidents for April 1963 showed a significant decrease over April 1962, from 175 to 133. Death and injuries also showed marked decreases. Property damage increased from $95,585 to $104,400.

Phipps stated in his report, "Vacation time is here again in central Missouri and drivers will need to be particularly alert during the coming months in an effort to hold the line on traffic crashes."

Following is a break-down of accident statistics for April 1963 for those counties in the Democrat-Capitol trade area:

Boone County — no deaths, 12 injured; $9,295 property damage; 19 accidents.
Camden County — no deaths; five injured; $6,149 property damage; seven accidents.
Cooper County — no deaths; nine injured; $9,350 property damage; 13 accidents.
Miller County — one death; eight injured; $6,600 property damage; eight accidents.
Moniteau County — no deaths; 15 injured; $19,775 property damage; ten accidents.
Morgan County — no deaths; seven injured; $2,385 property damage; seven accidents.

Reason for Concern

Missiles May Be Hidden in Caves

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators said Thursday that U.S. intelligence chiefs admit "there is reason for grave concern" that Soviet long-range missiles and bombers may be hidden in Cuban caves.

"Even though the intelligence community believes that all have been withdrawn," the probes said, "it is of the greatest urgency to determine whether or not strategic missiles now are concealed in Cuba."

Absolute assurances can come only from "penetrating and continuing on-site inspection by reliable observers," they told the Senate. Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro has refused to permit such inspection. The United States relies mostly on aerial surveillance of the island.

The Senate Preparedness subcommittee also said that, despite President Kennedy's estimate that the total of Soviet troops may have dropped to about 12,000 the intelligence community still uses 17,500 as the current estimate.

This, the senators said, is "per-

BULLETIN

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A federal grand jury indicted Teamster President James R. Hoffa and six others Thursday on charges of conspiring and attempting to influence the jury in his trial here last winter on charges accepting illegal payments from a Detroit truck firm.

Hoffa, 49, was charged with "aiding, commanding and inducing" specific attempts to influence two jurors and a prospective juror to vote for his acquittal in exchange for money or favors.

The nine-week trial ended last Dec. 23 in a mistrial, with the jury reporting it was hopelessly deadlocked.

Also indicted Thursday were: Ewing King, president of Teamsters Local 327 in Nashville.

Allen Dorfman, a Chicago insurance broker who has handled large amounts of insurance for the Teamsters Union.

Larry Campbell of Inkster, Mich., a business agent for Teamsters Local 299 at Detroit. Hoffa is president of Local 299, as well as of the international union.

Thomas Ewing Parks, Nashville, Campbell's uncle.

Nicholas J. Tweel, Huntington, W. Va., president of Continental Tobacco Co. of New York.

Lawrence W. Medlin, a Nashville merchant.

School Bus In Collision

Three Persons Are Hurt; Two In Car, One On Bus

A school bus and a car collided on a narrow and brushy country road southwest of Sedalia about 7:30 a.m. Thursday morning causing severe injuries to a passenger in the auto and less serious hurts to two other persons—one aboard the school bus.

The accident occurred 1.9 miles west of Highway 65 and Anderson School and .8 of a mile south off county route F.

Taken to Bothwell Hospital in a Ewing ambulance was Mrs. Rosalie Meyer, 22, of Route 1, Sedalia. She received severe multiple lacerations to the face, apparently incurred when she was thrown forward into the windshield, a possible fractured right collar bone and an injury to the left hand. She was treated by Dr. Donald K. Kirby and admitted to the hospital. She is reported in fair condition.

Also injured in the collision was William Jackson Meyer, 23, also of Route 1, who was the driver of the car. He was treated for a slight injury to the nose, left elbow and chin, but was not admitted to the hospital.

Polly Ann Stotts, 16, of Route 1, was the only passenger in the school bus at the time. She received a slight injury to the left leg and complained of chest pains. Miss Stotts is a freshman at Smith-Cotton High School. The accident occurred near the home of Miss Stotts' sister, Mrs. Gerald Meyer, also of Route 1, who resides at the top of the hill just north of the accident scene.

Jacklyn Marie Meyer, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, escaped injury in the crash and was not taken to the hospital.

The 1960 GMC school bus, owned by the Townsend Bus Service of Sedalia, was being driven south by Gordon Edward McDowell, 24, of 1100 South Harrison. McDowell is a Sedalia police officer and drives for the bus service in off-duty hours.

Meyer was northbound in a 1954 Dodge sedan at the time of the accident.

The bus and car collided on a slight curve and at the foot of a hill. The left fronts of the vehicles met, extensively damaging the school bus and demolishing the auto.

Investigating Highway Patrol officer, Sgt. E. W. Van Winkle, made no arrests.

The vehicles were removed by wreckers from the Ball Motor Company and Bacon's Service Station.

Receives Broken Leg In Accident Thurs.

John Pearce, 57, an employee of the IIT Kellogg Company, received a broken left leg at 8:15 a.m. Thursday morning when the brakes on a backfiller stuck and knocked him into a six-foot ditch.

Pearce, who is residing at the Terry Hotel here, was working about 12 miles north of Clifton City at the time of the accident. The IIT Kellogg firm has a cable laying sub-contract in the Minute-man missile complex project.

Pearce was brought to the hospital in a Ewing ambulance.

119 Students Seek Public School Seats

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Suburban Florissant school officials said 119 Roman Catholic parochial school students enrolled in three Florissant public schools Thursday for next fall term, bringing the area total close to 500.

The enrollment came after about 500 persons marched through Florissant led by a policeman on a motorcycle and escorted by seven other officers on foot who directed traffic at intersections.

The marchers carried signs and waved American flags in their protest against the tabling of a Missouri House bill that would enable parochial students to ride school buses.

The signs read: "Taxation Without Education," "Transportation is Tyranny," "Give us Transportation or Refund Our Taxes."

Robert Lowery, aide to the Florissant police chief, said the

Cooper Scheduled To Make 34-Hour Trip Through Space

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Astronaut Gordon Cooper scheduled 34-hour journey through space next week should reap harvest of medical data on man's ability to perform during extended weightless flight.

If the 36-year-old Air Force major completes the full route, he will land in the Pacific Ocean 30 miles southeast of Midway Island 34 hours, 19 minutes later—between 6:19 p.m. and 8:49 p.m. EST the day after liftoff.

Officials said a major objective of the flight will be "verification that man can function in space as a primary system aboard the spacecraft for an extended period of time." The medical checks also will evaluate the adequacy of the life-support system.

As Cooper's "Faith 7" spacecraft goes round and round the globe, medical monitors at 23 ground and ship-based tracking stations will keep close watch for any signs of stress. They will collect mountains of data on blood pressure, temperature, respiration, heartbeat, etc.

Several eating, water-drinking and rest periods are scheduled to maintain the astronaut's energy reserves for the demanding flight. Cooper is to sleep for eight hours from the 9th through the 15th orbits. After waking, he may take a stimulant to insure alertness the remainder of the mission.

An oral thermometer, installed in the helmet, will be used for the first time on a Mercury flight. It will replace a rectal thermometer used previously.

The Debate on Space

America's space program, and particularly its man-on-the-moon project, is being thrust increasingly into the arena of public debate.

President Kennedy has reasserted—and not for the first time—the government's intention to stay with it. But this is not likely to quell the argument.

The least plausible contentions against the moon project are those which state the money saved from cutbacks could—and would—be used to finance important domestic programs.

No measure of congressional intent, judged by past performance or current attitude, suggests that any such result would follow.

The more thoughtful argument, joined in by many scientists, is that our heavy concentration on the moon program and other space projects is diverting too many engineers and scientists from fruitful contributions to the civilian economy.

That the concentration exists no one doubts. It may also be true, as certain scientists are saying, that civilian technology does not get nearly as much "by-product effect" from this effort as some government officials assert.

Yet the complainants have not made their case.

There is no ready proof that scientists and engineers drawn into special space labors would, if not thus occupied, be now engaged in civilian research and technology.

The space field today is loaded with young specialists who have found its extraordinary challenges a powerful magnet.

No one knows how many would enter science and engineering at all if the prospect were simply to seek the absolutely silent ice box, the dirt-free carburetor and the shockproof television set.

One problem in the modern mass production civilian economy is that it is organized, from research through distribution, around the idea of the "big team," with individuals played down.

Space programs, too, are team efforts. But their goals are in the realm of high adventure, affecting the standing and the security of nations caught in a vital struggle. Even the man in the white coat pushing minor buttons on a console has the feeling of crossing new frontiers.

Without better evidence, therefore, it is unreasonably presumptuous to argue the moon project and other space work produces damaging scientific undernourishment in the civilian world.

If the undernourishment is a fact, let industry find new lures. With our booming population, there will be plenty of men looking for rewarding work.

Guantanamo Mecca for Congressmen

(Editor's Note — Drew Pearson is out of town because of the death of his brother. In his absence, his column is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

By JACK ANDERSON
WASHINGTON — For footloose congressmen, Guantanamo has surpassed Rio, Rome, and even Paris as the place to go.

It has become a status symbol — sure to impress the voters back home — for a congressman to visit the great U. S. Naval Base, which protrudes like a loaded cigar out of the mouth of Cuba.

There, on the edge of the Communist curtain, he can exchange套套 through the barbed wire with Castro's militiamen and listen gravely to the latest rumors about the Soviet build-up.

The Navy, mindful of the coming appropriations debate, offers deluxe flights to Guantanamo for members of Congress. If they also happen to be Naval Reservists, they can draw active-duty pay while they travel.

Usually, these VIP Reservists like to put in their active duty at such hardship posts as Paris or Hong Kong. But last month, some of them forsook the bright lights of Paris for the political allure of Guantanamo.

(Note: They made a stop at Parris Island, S. C., perhaps for sentimental reasons.)

Although they were supposedly on active duty, they didn't bother to put on their uniforms and were treated more like four-star admirals than reserve captains and commanders.

They were accompanied by four escort officers, who out-ranked some of the congressional reservists yet cheerfully hustled their baggage and saw to their comfort.

A full-time doctor, Capt. Kenneth W. Schenck, also went along to hand out any aspirin that might be needed.

Strictly Bipartisan

Among the reservists treated with such loving care were Congressmen Robert Duncan (D-Ore.), Ed Edmondson (D-Okl.), Ray Roberts (D-Tex.), Henry Schadeberg (R-Wis.), and Sam Stratton (D-N.Y.). Ex-Congressman James Van Zandt (R-Pa.), who used to head up these Naval junkies

VAN BUREN CURRENT LOCAL: Strange Word. — A well known writer of Ozarks things, in urging passage of the Ozark Rivers National Monument bill, in a recent magazine article, quoted a description of the Ozarks as a "devastated human habitat."

A strange phrase to be employed by a writer who professes a love for the Ozarks and its people. Strange words to describe a region which is now producing thousands of boardfeet of timber each year, thanks in the main to the U. S. Forest Service and the acceptance of conservation practices.

Strange words to tack onto an area which attracts thousands of visitors who come to merely look at the beauty of a blooming dogwood in the spring or the vivid colors of autumn in the Ozarks.

Strange words for the sincere-minded people who supported the monument plan, to have to swallow about their region.

A strange phrase. Were it not a reflection of such pitiful ignorance, it would be downright amusing.

No idle questions, these. They'll be explored tentatively at a conference on the Law of Space and of Satellite Communications at Northwestern University School of Law May 1-2.

Romney Preaches But Will He Practice?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Romney, who became Michigan's governor Jan. 1, got a big hand this week when he preached do-it-yourself at a meeting of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Since he'll be governor two years, he'll have time to show whether he practices what he preaches, or whether he can.

This former automaker, who keeps insisting he will not be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year, said state and local governments must rely more on themselves and less on help from the federal government.

This idea of self-reliance has been preached for generations while states and local communities—and individuals within the states—keep putting their hands out for more and bigger government help.

The question which always follows a theme like Romney's is whether the states and local communities could really do all they need to do for themselves by themselves.

For instance, Michigan's biggest city, Detroit, right now is asking for more government help to handle its unemployed.

Romney also complained that the federal government is encroaching more and more on "state, local and individual freedom and responsibility."

But this is part of the circle. The more states and local communities ask for government money, the more the government must butt in to see what they do with the money.

When Romney calls for a "Citizens' party" — whatever that means—to halt the federal encroachment, things get a little foggy.

It will be interesting to see how much federal help to Michigan—it's running in the hundreds of millions of dollars—Romney will refuse or try to persuade other Michigan officials to turn down.

As if to prove he wasn't talking for everyone, on the very day he praised self-reliance, some state and local officials, one of them from Michigan, came to Washington to ask for more federal help.

Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit urged Congress to authorize more spending under the Area Redevelopment Act to stimulate the economy in depressed areas and provide jobs for the unemployed.

Congress passed that act in April 1961, to give federal aid to depressed areas with unemployment. At that time 20 major industrial areas and 90 smaller ones met the depressed requirements. Detroit was one of them.

Joining Cavanagh in his plea were Mayor Joseph W. Barr Jr., of Oil City, Pa., and Hulett C. Smith, West Virginia's commissioner of commerce.

Barr said federal money is needed because "communities suffering from severe economic depression simply do not have the funds and resources to reshape a declining economy."

And Smith said his state of West Virginia is unique in its economic problems nearly the entire state—51 out of 55 counties—is designated a depressed area. All three men said the program should be broadened.

President Kennedy's budget estimate for the 1964 fiscal year starting July 1 calls for $10.4 billion in federal aid to state and local governments, almost four times as much as President Eisenhower's $2.7-billion request in 1954.

This is a pretty good example of increasing state reliance on federal help since in the same 10-year period spending by states and local governments from their own funds only doubled.

The biggest single factor in the increase in federal aid is help for highway construction. In the 1964 budget it is estimated over 60 per cent of the federal money will be for highway construction and public assistance grants.

The roots of the present system—help to the states by Uncle Sam—go back to Civil War days when Congress in 1862 passed the Morrill act which established the land-grant colleges and set certain federal minimum standards.

Later came federal aid for agriculture, highways, vocational education and rehabilitation, forestry and public health. As the government pumped out more money, it naturally had its fingers in more local pies. This meant controls.

The latest figures on how much Michigan has been getting from the federal government—both for the state and local communities and individuals within the state—are from the report of the secretary of the treasury for 1961. The figures for 1962 won't be out for another few weeks.

In 1961 Michigan got over $356 million. Romney is also talking of wiping out Michigan's deficits. He'll have quite a time doing it if he tells the federal government Michigan doesn't need any more help and can foot its own bills.

"Water... on the rocks!"

Dialogue from Washington

By Vera Clay

What's Barry Goldwater got that is making him the popularity kid of the Republican party?

To hear tell in conservative Republican circles, he practically is in the White House in 1964. But, as everyone knows, "there is many a slip..." before those electoral votes really roll in."

Senator Goldwater, a handsome 53, says he is running for the Senate, again (he's been there since 1953), and presumably this rules out a presidential campaign. But, the list is long and notable, of candidates who claimed they were running only for the Senate, but who, at the convenient time, exuberantly entered the presidential race.

Anyone who has glanced at the drugstore paperback rack knows that Goldwater has written a book, "The Conscience of a Conservative" — which outlines, without frills, the Senator's political philosophy: the good, homely virtues of the past, less government from the top, and more from the states, a free hand for business and an all-American, no-nonsense approach towards Communism.

"Why Not Victory," his second book, still in hardcover but due out in paperback next month, says, let's win the cold war from a position of strength. His aides label the doctrine, "brinksmanship" which turns out to be, after all, what President Eisenhower's late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles practiced all of the time.

In any event, Goldwater is a big attraction and on May 9 at a razzle-dazzle $100 per plate Republican senatorial fund-raising dinner at the Sheraton Park Hotel in Washington, Goldwater will be the star, even though Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York has accepted the invitation and will share the podium with the senator.

Already the politicians are casting longing eyes at the Rockefeller-Goldwater team, "a marvelous ticket," they exclaim through their cigar smoke.

It may be a marvelous team, but this column has been assured that Senator Goldwater absolutely will not take second place on any ticket. Presumably, Governor Rockefeller feels the same way. But, remember, when Lyndon Johnson was saying the same thing at the Democratic convention in 1960? It still is early enough for "non-candidates" to be saying what they will or will not take and this early, it's safe to say almost anything, with the full realization that most of it will be forgotten when the bands start playing and the banners start waving at the political conventions.

Goldwater, however, has stirred up the Republican party healthily in a kind of reverse Wendell Wilkie syndrome: where Wilkie was a liberal maverick within the party, Goldwater is conservative. He, too, is being flattered with "Goldwater - for President" organizations throughout the country; one of the most recent right in Washington's own backyard, Montgomery County in Maryland, an economically booming and politically sophisticated community. Our former Ambassador to Luxembourg, A. Burks Summers, who was appointed to Luxembourg during the Eisenhower Administration, and who heads the local Goldwater for President organization, says, "Goldwater can take the New Frontier."

Whether he can or not, remains to be seen.

The Senator supported Richard Nixon at the 1960 Republican convention and presumably some of Nixon's supporters will return the favor. Nixon has made no commitments, though it is hardly conceivable that he would support Governor Rockefeller.

Goldwater's supporters feel that the Southern States are the Senator's hardcore strength because he so vigorously champions states rights. What about the North? He is against segregation and for integration, his aides explain.

Being for States Rights and against segregation puts the Senator in a safe bargaining position. It is more likely, however, that the Senator's main strength will come from the groundswell of conservatism which appears to be the driving force within the Republican party. Its supporters are for something, not only against the Kennedys, Senator Goldwater, on the floor of the Senate even has praised the President — which, is more than some other Republicans have been doing. Thus, say his backers, Goldwater has everything — plus being a reasonable man.

While the big Republican stakes are up for grabs, the congressional race this year claims the interest of the younger members of Congress who, eager-eyed and with jaws jutting already are hitting the hustings with a bagful of political tricks. The GOP "Paul Revere" riders are roaming twenty states now, including Kentucky, Missouri, Illinois and North Carolina, taking potshots at the Administration and distributing car stickers saying: "STOP SPENDING... ITS NOT YOUR JACK, JACK..." and "THEY'RE STILL 90 MILES AWAY..."

One of the thirty young Congressmen, on the tour, John V. Lindsay, Republican of New York, has a handsome face which makes him look as though he were a composite President Kennedy and Nelson Rockefeller. His looks are sure to confuse his audiences.

The Doctor Says

Puzzler for Medicine-- Subject of Breast Cancer

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In spite of progress made in many fields, breast cancer is still something of an enigma. It is the leading cause of death from cancer in women.

It is estimated that one woman in 18 will develop breast cancer at some time in her life. One fact that has assumed great importance is that there are at least two types of breast cancer, one that depends on the hormonal balance in the body, and one that does not. The chances for effective treatment are a little better in the hormone-dependent type than in the other.

The only lead we have to the cause is that the prevalence appears to be greater in those women who are late in starting to have the menopause. Some observers have stated that the prevalence is greater in women who have no children or who have not nursed their babies, but the evidence is not convincing.

Unfortunately, the number of mothers who do not nurse their babies has increased in the last 25 years. But the general prevalence rates for breast cancer have not appreciably changed.

Breast cancer rarely occurs on both sides, but women who have had one breast removed for this cause have a 40-times greater chance of getting cancer in the remaining breast than have the general run of women. It is a waste of time to try to tie a breast cancer up with a bump or bruise received in the near or distant past. A recent bump may be merely the thing that brought the tumor to a woman's attention. It is in no way causative.

One hopeful aspect of the problem is the fact that about 95 per cent of breast cancers are now first discovered by the victims themselves.

and with a pencil (or anything in my purse) punch a hole in each cap, just right for a straw to fit in. Even by tilting the drinks way over, they go noisily. I have completely done away with any spills by using this method.

This is a result of a nationwide campaign to teach women the technique of self-examination, in addition to having periodic check-ups by their doctors.

In case of doubt, your doctor can easily determine the nature of a breast tumor by getting an X-ray examination, using a special method. Such an examination may reveal a tumor that is too small to be felt. The final clincher is the microscopic examination of tissue removed for biopsy.

Many a lump in the breast turns out to be a benign cyst. When so proved, it should not be considered a forerunner of cancer. On the other hand, pain of recent origin that is present on only one side and does not disappear in two or three weeks should be reason enough for a thorough examination by your doctor.

After a great deal of controversy, authorities now agree that once the diagnosis is made, the only safe treatment is a radical removal of the breast. This means removing in one mass not only the breast but also as much of its lymphatic drainage field as possible. This field extends into the armpit. The removal of anything less is almost sure to be followed by an early return of the disease, either near the original site or in the lungs, bones, or liver.

When the operative incision is healed, the treatment is not over by any means. Most doctors now advise intensive X-ray of the region of the removed breast to kill any remnant of cancer that may be present. Failures of this procedure in the past may, among other things, have been due to not using large enough doses of X-ray.

Should the tumor return in spite of expert care, some benefit may be obtained by surgical removal of the ovaries, the adrenals, or both. The fact that some women live 20 years or more after removal of a breast cancer and others only a few months indicates that there is still a lot we don't know about this disease.

'Outdoorsmen' Learning Of World Around Them

By LARRY EMBRY

SOMEONE ONCE observed that few people know enough about the world around them. And another pointed out that the time a man spends in fishing is not counted against his life span.

Seventy Pettis County 4-H'ers enrolled in a spring "Outdoorsman" project might be cognizant of the philosophy behind these axioms, but we suspicion they are most interested in the fun they are having in making fishing lures and practicing their use, gaining an acquaintance with birds, fish, mammals and wildflowers and learning the rudiments of small boat and watercraft safety.

These are the subjects broached in the "Outdoorsman" project, now in its first full-scale trial in the county. Last year about 15 4-H'ers enrolled in the project and it was tried on a pilot basis. But this year the enrollment mushroomed to 70 and average attendance has been 50 to 60 youngsters—indicating the high degree of interest.

They are learning more of the world that surrounds them and getting early training in fishing and watercraft safety. Veteran fishermen will attest they can't get started too young in the angling art and certainly boat and water safety is important as it may someday save their lives.

Owen Fox, Pettis County's extension youth agent, explained the outdoorsman project was offered on a county-wide basis because trained leadership was needed to teach the various phases. Therefore, the project counts in its membership 4-H'ers from clubs throughout the county. Some enrolled are taking only the outdoorsman project.

Don Walz has been the coordinator of the program since its beginning about 10 weeks ago.

He enlisted Conservation Agent Chester Vermaas to instruct a four-week study in getting acquainted with birds, mammals, reptiles and wildflowers.

Following the nature study course were four weeks of making their own fishing lures, capped off in the final week by a fishing trip to the Marvin Howard lake on north Highway 65. The group learned to make all types of lures—flies, popping bugs, plugs and jigs. Tom Baker instructed the course.

The handling of small boats and watercraft is being outlined to the group at present as the project is now in its final four-week stage. Don Baker, well qualified through his experiences as a skin diver, is leader of the watercraft portion.

The outdoorsman is not limited to just one year. There are 20 different phases and members are expected to complete four a year. They must attend a majority of the meetings and turn in a record of the project at the completion of the 12 weeks.

Outdoorsman phases available to the 4-H'ers include archery, camping, first aid, fishing lures, fishing skills, getting acquainted with birds, fish and mammals, gun safety, native tree identification, outdoor photography, responsibilities of the outdoorsman, soil and water management, small watercraft safety, snakeology, water safety, wildflowers, wildlife codes, wildlife foods and woodland wisdom.

Jewel-Eating Dog Escapes Surgery

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP)—Happy, the jewel-eating dog, gave up his diamonds and escaped the surgeon's knife.

Happy, a wire-haired terrier, swallowed the engagement, wedding and birthstone rings of his owner, Mrs. Gerald Kabobel, two weeks ago.

It took a veterinarian's X-rays to determine that Happy made off with the three rings.

If Happy hadn't returned the rings it would have meant an operation Saturday.

The dog swallowed the rings when his owner and her husband, a Ft. Lee, Va., soldier whose home is in Saginaw, Mich., left him behind when they went to work.

Happy got his first romp outside in two weeks after the rings were returned.

EVEN THE GIRLS—Debbie Collister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collister, gets some instruction in the handling of a fly rod from fishing skills instructor Tom Baker. The day of the fishing trip was windy and not too good for fly fishing. Most of the girls enrolled in the outdoorsman project, however, turned in as good a performance as the boys. Looking on at the instruction from the side is Pete Healy.

WHIPPING THE ROD—Bud Thomas gives Mickey Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell, Route 2, Green Ridge, some pointers on proper handling of the flyrod. Youngsters were guided in achieving the right whip which will shoot out the slack line to that nook or cranny where a big one might be lurking.

TANGLES CAN HAPPEN—Neal Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hunter, Route 2, Green Ridge, finds the hard way that tangles occur often when the tyro fisherman picks up a fly-rod. Neal's instructor is Bud Thomas, one of several adult leaders who assisted in the fishing field trip.

A CRAWDAD THEIR CATCH—When 4-H'ers in the outdoorsman project made a recent field trip to the Marvin Howard lake on north Highway 65 the fish weren't very cooperative. But these three boys caught a crawdad and their faces show they were just about as delighted as if it had been a fish. The boys are Jay Bunce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wes Bunce, 1717 West Third; Barry Walz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Walz, Route 4; and Lyle Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Robinson, Route 4.

INTENT ON CATCHING ONE—Over 50 4-H'ers spread out around the Howard lake with hopes of hooking a big fish, but the fish had different ideas. This group of anglers stands intently despite the lack of bites. Baits were limited to the lures which the youngsters had made in the project.

HOMEMADE LURES—Mike Howard, 10, at the left, and Mike Hawkins, 13, examine their fishing lure handiwork. The lures were made by the boys as a part of their 4-H outdoorsman project. Young Howard is the son of

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Howard, Route 4, and the other Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hawkins, 1609 West Ninth. Hawkins is secretary of the outdoorsman club. (Democrat-Capital photos)
